Club Committee Urges Funds To Improve Roads

'A good road to every farm,' is the slogan of the Commercial Club for 1930.

In a report to the Club the committee submits the following report on road conditions:

'Your committee on public roads submit the following report:

'The general sentiment of the people of Cameron favors a definite program for the maintenance and extension of our roads for the year 1930. They realize that our city has grown into an important trade center, because it was a pioneer in planning and promoting a complete system of good roads for the entire county. We set the example of not spending any public money on roads or streets within the corporate limits, but put every dollar on the country roads. As a result our road system penetrates every part of the county and the town has prospered and grown into a thriving city because of this wise and liberal policy. We are proud of our roads and they have always paid a good dividend on the investment.

'Two kinds of roads are to be considered: First, State Highways extending north and south, east and west connecting Cameron with all parts of the State. If the Highway Commission continues its policy of maintaining and improving these roads they will not become a financial burden on our community and will be adequate for general state travel for years. We must, however, understand that the Highway Commission can not always know our local needs and it is the part of wisdom for us to keep informed upon the condition of these roads and to be ready to cooperate with the Commissioners' Court and other county authorities in bringing our needs before the Commission.

'There is a large and increasing travel over these highways and they have suffered much from flood and travel. Travelers tell us that those to Waco, Hearne, Rockdale and Milano are sadly in need of repair and improvement. They should be widened, straightened and the dips replaced with culverts so that they may be safe for travel. New two-way bridges should be placed on Elm and Sandy Creek crossings and within a reasonable time the roadways should be concreted. We, therefore, think it important for our Club to keep in close touch with these roads, with the county authorities and Commissioners' Court and to be ready at any time to assist in taking proper care of them.

'The maintenance and extension of the various roads entering Cameron from all over the county are most urgent and demand our attention. It will require contributions from our citizenship generally in order to preserve and extend their usefulness. They are our trade arteries and to them we are the greatest debtors because they are the direct sources of the growing trade of our city. Most of them were built by road districts but at the time the bonds were voted no provision was made for maintenance or extensions and as a result there is no fund out of which these vital needs can be paid except very small county road tax which does not produce a sufficient revenue to properly care for them. We can not afford to let these roads go down. Our county commissioners harve been fair and helpful in every way that they could. To our veteran Commissioner N. H. Butts, we are especially obligated. He gives practically all his time to them. We have heretofore supplemented the road funds by voluntary contributions from our citizens who have been generous givers. These roads have suffered great damage during the past year from floods and it is absolutely necessary that we give Mr. Butts and our other commissioners immediate and material assistance, otherwise, the best trade roads we have will be diminished in value or entirely lost. It is, therefore, the duty of every citizen to take a personal interest in these trade roads. We can make them of increasing value if we pull together. They all need attention, but the requirements of some are more urgent than others. As among the most important we name the following: (a) The Yarrelton road and its extension to intersect the east and west highway at Meeks. This would accommodate a large and increasing trade from that fertile section. Commissioner Fuchs will give his best help. (b) Norman Valley road from its intersection with the Davilla road to San Gabriel. The importance of this project can not be over-estimated. The enterprising citizens along the route have already contributed liberally to grading and graveling, and Commissioner Moore has given good aid, but it is important that the work already done be maintained and the road completed in good condition to San Gabriel. Mr. Kirk comes to Cameron highly recommended as a cheese manufacturer, having had several years experience with the Kraft Cheese Corporation. He was instrumental in establishing and placing on a paying basis the plant at Valley Mills.

The local plant plans to have milk routes established over the county and anyone interested in this proposition should get in touch with Mr. Colgin at the plant in Cameron. He will advise dairy men about their cows and rations and in every way has assisted them to make the engagement profitable.

The plant when established here in 1928 was destined to engage in the manufacture of cheese. Conditions at that time did not warrant a continuation of the business on that basis, but it is now planned to again enter the cheese manufacturing business.

MANDY FARMER, AGED FORMER SLAVE STIRS HEARTS OF COURT MEMBERS IN PATHETIC APPEAL FOR AID HERE

Mandy Farmer, a former slave, humble and in the dialect of her race made a most pathetic appeal to the Milam County Commissioners' Court Thursday. To some present it brought memories of other days, when the sword was flashing and armies were marching, when the Southerner left his home and his all in the hands of his faithful slaves and they also remembered how true these slaves were to their trust. Aunt Mandy is one of the few of these left, most of them have 'crossed over the river to rest under the shade of the trees' with 'Ole Marser' and Ole Missus.' With tottering st'eps and trembling hands and in a low musical voice she, in substance, made the following appeal:

'Gentlemen's my name is Mandy Farmer, I was a slave and belonged to Marse Isaac Jackson, who lived near Austin, my ole Mrster and Missus were so kind to me, they were the best people that ever lived. I know that they are in heaven and I expect to meet them there. During the war with these old hands I helped my ole Missus card cotton and weave cloth to make clothing for my young Masters and other Confederate soldiers. I have never had to ask for help before. I raised a fine boy and he supported me, but the Judge here knows that he lost his mind and that he had to send him to the State Hospital. Now I have got no one to support me, I am old and the weather is cold. I need wood and something to eat and I jest don't know what else to do but to come to the good white folks and ask them to help me.'

It is needless to say that Aunt Mandy's plea was not in vain.

CAMPAIGN FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL ENLISTMENT

GOAL IS 1800 IN SUNDAY SCHOOL BY EASTER SUNDAY HERE

For some time the pastors and Sunday school workers have had the feeling that more of the people of Cameron should be inlisted in Sunday school. This feeling was made known to the Pastors Conference last week by Rev. E. S. Hutcherson. After the matter had been discussed freely by the Conference the chairman appointed Rev. Hutcherson as a committee to bring plans to the Conference Tuesday, January 21, for a Sunday School Campaign.

This meeting was attended by three pastors, four superintendents and one educational director who listened to and heartily approved the following plans for the Campaign.

A goal was set for the city at 1800 in Sunday school by Easter Sunday.

A slogan 'Meet me at S. S.' was adopted. This is to be placed on a button and given to everyone who comes to Sunday School.

Suggested goals for each church were made and adopted by all churches except the Church of Christ and Episcopal which were not represented. The goals are as follows:

Methodist	675
Baptist	675
Presbyterian	250
Christian	100
Church of Christ	60
Episcopal	40
Total	1800

Reports from each church will be run each week in the papers.

GEORGE W. SLEDGE DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

NEGRO LEADER AND WIDELY KNOWN OVER COUNTRY BURIED HERE ON MONDAY

George W Sledge, 69, pioneer negro resident and widely known over the nation as a leader of his race, died at his home in Cameron on Thursday evening, January 16, 1930 following a long siege of illness brought on by declining health and advanced years. Paralysis, the fifth stroke to have been suffered by the aged leader, was the cause of his death.

George W. Sledge was a native of Mississippi but came to Texas with his parents when five years of age, landing at Maysfield and had spent 64 years in Milam county. He had witnessed the history of a half century as it wrote its changes upon the affairs of men and saw the development of the country and enjoyed a wide acquaintance among the white people as well as the people of his own race.

Denied the advantages of schooling as most men of that day were denied, George Sledge, possessing much native ability, made application of his talents, and soon acquired knowledge above the average of his people and this achievement brought to him a position of leadership he had held for many years prior to is death. He early became interested in political affairs and also in the various movements for the advancement of his people and was always a leader and counselor and his death has removed from the ranks of the colored people one who cannot be readily replaced.

A republican in politics he occupied a position of prominence in the party councils. He was chairman at one time of the party in the county. He was a delegate to the National Convention from the 18th Senatorial district in 1900 and each four years thereafter was a delegate from Texas having attended the last convention in Kansas City when the party named Herbert Hoover.

Funeral services were held at the Cameron Grove Baptist Church on Monday, January 20, 1930 with Rev. P. R. Humber, pastor, preaching the funeral oration. Many people of both races were present for the funera program.

He is survived by his widow and four children, Willie M. Sledge of Milano, Theresa Johnson, Dallas; Izola Sledge, Cameron and Claude Sledg of Corsicana.

WELL IN TWO MILES OF MILAM COUNTY LINE STARTS STAMPEDE TO NEW OIL FIELD

Renewed interest in oil development in this section has been evident here following the blowing in of the discovery well on the E. I. Chapman lease in Williamson county near Taylor last Friday.

This wild cat blew in making about 1000 barrels a day. It was drilled by Jim Kemp of Cameron and opens a new Texas field in the fault which predominates in the more prominent structure of Milam county. Indications are the well is not an extention of the old Thrall field which was a freak producing area, but a discovery of oil in the strata which turned the eyes of oildom to Mexia and Luling.

This structure running through Milam county is believed to contain the big pay and as a result it is predicted here that this county will get the largest play in its history.

The well, a wildcat, was drilled by Jim Kemp and associates from Dallas. Already there has been a stampede to Taylor and not a few Cameron citizens have made big money in leases in that area. Acreage prices have soared as high as $2000 per acre and indications are that the section here is to get a development program which the more persistent of operators have anticipated for several years, since the discovery of the first well by Sam Hohenstein in the old Minerva field in 1920.

Ten years of drilling has brought the country here more and more to a stage of big pay and indications are that the big boom is on with renewed activity in the structure that produced the Kemp well on the Chapman lease.

The well is located within two miles of the Milam county line northwest of Taylor.

Plans Are Made For Campaign Of Sunday School Attendance

The launching of a Sunday School campaign with a community goal of an attendance of 1800 by Easter Sunday was definitely decided upon and plans for the drive were made at a meeting of the pastors and Sunday school superintendents of the city held Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock in Rev. Lehmberg's study at the Methodist church.

Suggestion for the campaign was first made at a meeting of the pastors held the previous week, and Rev. E. S. Hutcherson, the originator of the idea was named as a committee of one to formulate further plans and submit them to the body on Tuesday.

Adopting the community goal of 1800, each church represented was given an individual goal to attain, the division being as follows: Methodist 675, Baptist 675, Presbyterian 250, Christian 100, Church of Christ 60, Episcopal 40. The last two churches were not represented at the meeting and their quotas are accordingly subject to change. The campaign is scheduled to begin on Sunday, February 2 and will culminate on Easter Sunday, April 20. Attendance at the various Sunday schools each Sunday and the goal to be reached will be published each week, thus keeping before the public the progress being made in the campaign. A committee on publicity is to be appointed later.

Rev. Hutcherson suggested the use of buttons in the campaign and he was appointed on a committee with Mr. Graham Gillis and Mr. Raymond Beard to design and order the buttons. This committee, meeting at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon, selected a button having in the center '1800?' and around the edge, Meet me at Sunday School.' Othe'r advertising schemes such as automobile stickers were discussed but no definite action was taken.

Those attending the meeting were Rev. E. S. Hutcherson, pastor, and Charles McGehee, superintendent of the Sunday school, First Baptist church; Rev. C. A. Lehmberg, pastor and Roy Baskin, superintendent, First Methodist church; Rev. Joel Hardigree, pastor and Raymond Beard, superintendent Christian church. Greham Gillis, superintendent of the Sunday school, Presbyterian church

I know that they are in heaven and I expect to meet them there. During the war with these old hands I helped my ole Missus card cotton and weave cloth to make clothing for my young Masters and other Confederate soldiers. I have never had to ask for help before. I raised a fine boy and he supported me, but the Judge here knows that he lost his mind and that he had to send him to the State Hospital. Now I have got no one to support me, I am old and the weather is cold. I need wood and something to eat and I jest don't know what else to do but to come to the good white folks and ask them to help me.'

It is needless to say that Aunt Mandy's plea was not in vain.

GOAL IS 1800 IN SUNDAY SCHOOL BY EASTER SUNDAY HERE

For some time the pastors and Sunday school workers have had the feeling that more of the people of Cameron should be inlisted in Sunday school. This feeling was made known to the Pastors Conference last week by Rev. E. S. Hutcherson. After the matter had been discussed freely by the Conference the chairman appointed Rev. Hutcherson as a committee to bring plans to the Conference Tuesday, January 21, for a Sunday School Campaign.

This meeting was attended by three pastors, four superintendents and one educational director who listened to and heartily approved the following plans for the Campaign.

A goal was set for the city at 1800 in Sunday school by Easter Sunday.

A slogan 'Meet me at S. S.' was adopted. This is to be placed on a button and given to everyone who comes to Sunday School.

Suggested goals for each church were made and adopted by all churches except the Church of Christ and Episcopal which were not represented. The goals are as follows:

Methodist	675
Baptist	675
Presbyterian	250
Christian	100
Church of Christ	60
Episcopal	40
Total	1800

Reports from each church will be run each week in the papers.

GEORGE W. SLEDGE DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

George W Sledge, 69, pioneer negro resident and widely known over the nation as a leader of his race, died at his home in Cameron on Thursday evening, January 16, 1930 following a long siege of illness brought on by declining health and advanced years. Paralysis, the fifth stroke to have been suffered by the aged leader, was the cause of his death.

George W. Sledge was a native of Mississippi but came to Texas with his parents when five years of age, landing at Maysfield and had spent 64 years in Milam county. He had witnessed the history of a half century as it wrote its changes upon the affairs of men and saw the development of the country and enjoyed a wide acquaintance among the white people as well as the people of his own race.

Denied the advantages of schooling as most men of that day were denied, George Sledge, possessing much native ability, made application of his talents, and soon acquired knowledge above the average of his people and this achievement brought to him a position of leadership he had held for many years prior to is death. He early became interested in political affairs and also in the various movements for the advancement of his people and was always a leader and counselor and his death has removed from the ranks of the colored people one who cannot be readily replaced.

A republican in politics he occupied a position of prominence in the party councils. He was chairman at one time of the party in the county. He was a delegate to the National Convention from the 18th Senatorial district in 1900 and each four years thereafter was a delegate from Texas having attended the last convention in Kansas City when the party named Herbert Hoover.

Funeral services were held at the Cameron Grove Baptist Church on Monday, January 20, 1930 with Rev. P. R. Humber, pastor, preaching the funeral oration. Many people of both races were present for the funeral program.

He is survived by his widow and four children, Willie M. Sledge of Milano, Theresa Johnson, Dallas; Izola Sledge, Cameron and Claude Sledge of Corsicana.

WELL IN TWO MILES OF MILAM COUNTY LINE STARTS STAMPEDE TO NEW OIL FIELD

Renewed interest in oil development in this section has been evident here following the blowing in of the discovery well on the E. I. Chapman lease in Williamson county near Taylor last Friday.

This wild cat blew in making about 1000 barrels a day. It was drilled by Jim Kemp of Cameron and opens a new Texas field in the fault which predominates in the more prominent structure of Milam county. Indications are the well is not an extention of the old Thrall field which was a freak producing area, but a discovery of oil in the strata which turned the eyes of oildom to Mexia and Luling.

This structure running through Milam county is believed to contain the big pay and as a result it is predicted here that this county will get the largest play in its history.

The well, a wildcat, was drilled by Jim Kemp and associates from Dallas. Already there has been a stampede to Taylor and not a few Cameron citizens have made big money in leases in that area. Acreage prices have soared as high as $2000 per acre and indications are that the section here is to get a development program which the more persistent of operators have anticipated for several years, since the discovery of the first well by Sam Hohenstein in the old Minerva field in 1920.

Ten years of drilling has brought the country here more and more to a stage of big pay and indications are that the big boom is on with renewed activity in the structure that produced the Kemp well on the Chapman lease.

The well is located within two miles of the Milam county line northwest of Taylor.

Plans Are Made For Campaign Of Sunday School Attendance

The launching of a Sunday School campaign with a community goal of an attendance of 1800 by Easter Sunday was definitely decided upon and plans for the drive were made at a meeting of the pastors and Sunday school superintendents of the city held Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock in Rev. Lehmberg's study at the Methodist church.

Suggestion for the campaign was first made at a meeting of the pastors held the previous week, and Rev. E. S. Hutcherson, the originator of the idea was named as a committee of one to formulate further plans and submit them to the body on Tuesday.

Adopting the community goal of 1800, each church represented was given an individual goal to attain, the division being as follows: Methodist 675, Baptist 675, Presbyterian 250, Christian 100, Church of Christ 60, Episcopal 40. The last two churches were not represented at the meeting and their quotas are accordingly subject to change. The campaign is scheduled to begin on Sunday, February 2 and will culminate on Easter Sunday, April 20. Attendance at the various Sunday schools each Sunday and the goal to be reached will be published each week, thus keeping before the public the progress being made in the campaign. A committee on publicity is to be appointed later.

Rev. Hutcherson suggested the use of buttons in the campaign and he was appointed on a committee with Mr. Graham Gillis and Mr. Raymond Beard to design and order the buttons. This committee, meeting at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon, selected a button having in the center '1800?' and around the edge, Meet me at Sunday School.' Othe'r advertising schemes such as automobile stickers were discussed but no definite action was taken.

Those attending the meeting were Rev. E. S. Hutcherson, pastor, and Charles McGehee, superintendent of the Sunday school, First Baptist church; Rev. C. A. Lehmberg, pastor and Roy Baskin, superintendent, First Methodist church; Rev. Joel Hardigree, pastor and Raymond Beard, superintendent Christian church. Graham Gillis, superintendent of the Sunday school, Presbyterian church

Chevrolet Salesmen Elated Over Prospects For 1930 Business

Highly elated over business prospects for the State during 1930, Mike Coleman, J. W. Rosson, Jr., and John Muse of the Coleman Chevrolet Company, retuned here today after attending a series of meetings held at Houston, presided over by D. E. Ralston, Assistant General Sales Manager, Chevrolet Motor Company, who is at the head of a group of high executives touring the Southwest and the Pacific Coast in the interest of their company.

The tour has been an annual affair and has been part of Chevrolet's program for several years. Dealers in each zone are called in to attend a series of meetings which include instruction in sales, service and Chevrolet policies.

Last year Chevrolet enjoyed the most prosperous year of its history in selling more than 1,300,000 six cylinder cars. In 1930 Chevrolet, with scores of mechanical improvements and numerous refinements, is expected by Chevrolet executives and the dealers present at the meeting, to receive th same enthusiastic response as the 1929 offering.

'Representatives of Chevrolet Motor Company have made an intensive survey of the Texas territory,' stated Mike Coleman, 'and they found that 1930 promises to be a prosperous year here. This survey covered agricultural and business proper. The development of roads in this section is offered as another reason to increase prosperity here, according to Chevrolet representatives.'

Two carloads of elaborate stage settings and equipment are carried by the factory party, along with four men who attend to work back stage. The Friday meeting consisted of talks and playlets designed to present messages in an enjoyable, as well as an understandable manner. Vaudeville and novelty numbers provided the evening entertainment program, which was closed with a talk by Mr. Ralston.

Coldest Weather On Record Does Heavy Damage In Cameron

The coldest weather ever recorded in Cameron so far as the records of the oldest citizens reveal occured here on the morning of Saturday January 18 when the thermometer registered 7 degrees below zero. This registration i sofficial according to R. A. Tag, local representative of the government weather bureau.

The lowest temperature for the winter prior to January 18 was recorded on December 22, 1929 when the mercury stood at 8 above zero.

The coldest previous record for low temperatures was recorded in 1899 when the mercury registered 4 below zero.

On last Saturday the river was frozen some 8 or 10 feet from the bank. Considerable damage has been reported from all sections of the city where water pipes and plumbing fixtures were broken by the freeze. It is estimated that the damage resulting from the freeze will amount to many thousands of dollars.

The heavy snow fall of the week coupled with the fall of December 21 will greatly aid farming in the spring.

Sherwood B. Owens of Brownwood Began Oil Career Here

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood B. Owens of Brownwood arrived Sunday for a visit. Owens is the son of the late John S. Owens who built the Owens Refinery at the Minerva oil field near Cameron in 1921.

He is vice president and assistant general manager of the Central Texas Refining company, with offices at Brownwood and general offices at Corsicana, operating refineries at Midland, Luling, Angus, Minerva, Corsicana and Brownwood.

Owens made his home in Cameron when a youth, and has many friends in Milam county who are glad to hear of the success he has made in the oil business. He organized the Sherwood B. Owens Oil Co., Inc., a year ago for $325,000 and the past six months has done more wild catting than most any other independent oil company in Texas.

Governor Obeyed Orders

A governor, the talking motion pictures reveal, was giving a memorial address in the South, before a large crowd which applauded his utterances, but these who saw the pictures found humor in the scene which his gathering probably missed.

The microphone, being on the stage, gives the theatergoer some of the conversation which is missed by the most earnest listener in the crowd which stood in front of the platform.

The governor was closing his address and as he sat down he put his hat on, but, as the applause began, a woman standing beside him, probably his wife, spoke up quickly, "Take your hat off."

And the governor did.—Springfield Union.

Got the Knees Mixed

Johnny was complaining of a badly bruised knee. It had always paid him well when he took his hurts to mother because she soothed his feelings with a 5-cent piece.

On this occasion Johnny needed 5 cents for a top. He remembered that he had a small bruise on his knee and if he could only make mother believe that it pained him, all would be well.

Mother listened to Johnny's tale of how he had fallen on his knee and bruised it. She asked to see the knee and Johnny sensed victory. He hurriedly pulled his stocking down, but alas and alack! It was the wrong stocking!—Philadelphia Public Ledger

NOTICE TO TAX PAYERS

Time for payment of taxes is now far advanced and only a few days remain in which to pay your taxes. LET ME URGE YOU to register your automobile and get your poll tax NOW.

It is important that every tax payer and every voter and every car owner take note of this situation and make payments as soon as possible.

While the office of the tax collector is ready at all times to give maximum service, in the last few days, it is not possible to make car registrations without penalty or obtain voting receipts when the time limit set by law arrives.

Tax payers please remember that most of the money paid in for poll taxes goes to the public free school fund and unless there is a full payment the schools will be deprived of these funds. This is political year, a time when every citizen within the ages prescribed by law may vote upon every public question submitted and for those to whom they wish to trust their public offices. This is important. You do not want to be deprived of your right to vote or see the public schools suffer for lack of adequate funds.

The law requires all automobiles to have new license plates by the Second day of February, on and after that day no motor vehicle which has been used in 1930 may be registered without paying a penalty of twenty per cent.

To avoid penalties on ad valorem taxes and get voting receipts they must be paid before midnight January 31. If the tax payers will co-operate in these matters by making early payments they will profit and so will their county and state. Do not wait until the last day but make your payments now, get your poll tax receipts and help your school and do not fail to register your car before the last day when congestion may inconvenience you.

Respectfully,

Roy Law
Tax Collector, Milam County

Texas and Texans

By Will H. Mayes

Pride in Texas Progress

'All Texans for all Texas' would be a good State motto. No state in the Union, no country in the world, has better opportunities for rapid progress than Texas, but for some reason we are not taking all the advantages we might of those opportunities.

Almost every one worth counting as a citizen has some degree of local pride in his immediate community, but Texas is so big that it is hard for some of us to stretch our pride enough to cover the whole state.

The truth is that when we think of the bigness of the State some of us give up trying to know much about it and limit our efforts to the little horizon about us.

More than anything else just now Texas needs an awakening of State pride such as is found in some States that are outgrowing Texas. Texans need to know Texas and all that it has to offer. They need to lay aside local selfishness sufficiently to make room for pride in the entire State.

What builds Texas builds every community in Texas. The entire State and whatever is in it is in the remotest part of the State makes for good citizenship in every part. A dollar added to the wealth of the farthest county adds a dollar to State wealth and to that extent helps you.

The newspapers can do more than any other agency to break down a spirit of shriveled localism that is harming many communities and replace it with an enthusiasm broad enough to cover all Texas and every interest in the State.

The Penitentiary Problem

No Texan can know at first hand the conditions prevailing at the State penitentiary and penal farms without hanging his head in shame at 'man's inhumanity to man.' Something should be done about it and done quickly.

The fault is not with the prison management but with the prison system. The State itself is at blame in that it has not realized that a deplorable condition should be met with determination and energy.

There is nothing new in the situation. It has existed for decades, but has grown worse as the prisons have become more crowded.

It is doubtful if the present legislative session will adopt either the majority or the minority report of the prison committee that has been making a study of the problem Possibly it should not.

It is admitted that overcrowding is the largest contributing factor to prison evils. Next to that is idleness. Next is lack of sympathetic efforts of help—recognition of the fact that all prisoners, though convicts, are not criminals at heart—that many are sick in mind or body and need treatment—that all need training, more even than punishment.

Smaller Prison Groups

Texas has grown too large to group all its prisoners at one place or to handle them as though they were all criminal alike. Most prisoners need to be schooled more than punished, many need hospitilization more than punishment. Results that are needed can be brought about better in smaller groups.

Why not start now and build a small model prison, probably two or three of them, eventually one in each congressional district and begin to treat convicts like human beings, giving them opportunity to become well, to be educated, to be trained to useful labor, to useful citizenship.

There is no maudlin sentiment in this suggestion. Some convicts, but by no means all, can never be reformed; some require and should have the severest punishment meted out by law, but there are enough of the other kind to make the effort worth while.

Instead of one immense penitentiary near Austin or any other place in which present conditions could hardly be improved sufficiently to justify the enormous expenditure, why not try smaller groupings with these so distributed and the laws so changed as to bring them under closer supervision of the courts that impose the penalties?

Mexico Seeking Tourists

Mexico is said to be seeking American tourists through Del Rio. That country has but recently closed its consulate and custom house at Laredo in a spirit of retaliation and has virtually told American citizens that it does not want them or their goods in Mexico through that port so long as this country, through its law enforcement officers at Laredo, seeks to enforce its laws against Mexican citizens.

But Mexico wants American tourist travel and American money provided they will come into that country through such ports as Mexico dictates. Those who will do this are offered the protection of the Mexican garrison stationed at Villa Acuna, for whatever that may be worth to them.

Wants Basket Factory

The Winter Garden Chamber of Commerce has decided that it would like to have a crate and basket factory, for products of the district and is in correspondence with parties who may be induced to establish one.

Why not do as the little town of Buda did when it decided it should have a cheese factory, and put up the money to build and operate it? That would be the quickest way to go about getting it, and the investment would not be large. The gods help Texans who help themselves.

Marble Falls Dam

It looks like the Marble Falls dam will be built, and soon. The company that has acquired the water rights is acquiring the lands that would be overflowed and is said to have spent a half million dollars in preliminary work. A large force of workmen is building camp houses for those who are to build the dam. Several million dollars will be spent in construction work in Burnet county. Burnet and Marble Falls will be the immediate gainers, but all Texas should profit from the huge enterprise.

Peanuts Pay Profits

Gillespie county farmers shipped 47 cars of peanuts from Fredericksburg last year and realized about $60,000 from the crop. Smithville farmers are considering planting a large acreage this year. The local oil mill has agreed to put in the machinery to convert them into oil and butter, if sufficient acreage is planted.

Using Texas Stone

Contractors who will build the Travis county courthouse will use Travis county stone from a quarry recently opened. Every public building in Texas, and for that matter every private building should be constructed as far as possible with Texas material. 'Texas builders should build Texas.'

Banning Cheap Shows

The Chamber of Commerce at Crystal City has decided to ask the local civic organizations to ban cheap shows and carnivals as instruments for making money. Texas has passed the stage of cheap carnivals to support local clubs and societies. There is too much entertainment of a better kind available.

Advertising Aids Expansion

Here is a poser for those who doubt that advertising in the local paper pays. The Calvert Tribune says that only one firm in that city has announced an exjansion program for 1930, and that is the only Calvert firm that carried an advertisement in every issue of the Calvert paper during 1929, changing its ad every week and quoting prices.

Armed with this evidence, the Tribune should get the expanding firm to double its advertising, and persuade every business concern of the town to get into the right road to business progress.

Texas and Texans

By Will H. Mayes

Pride in Texas Progress

'All Texans for all Texas' would be a good State motto. No state in the Union, no country in the world, has better opportunities for rapid progress than Texas, but for some reason we are not taking all the advantages we might of those opportunities.

Almost every one worth counting as a citizen has some degree of local pride in his immediate community, but Texas is so big that it is hard for some of us to stretch our pride enough to cover the whole state.

The truth is that when we think of the bigness of the State some of us give up trying to know much about it and limit our efforts to the little horizon about us.

More than anything else just now Texas needs an awakening of State pride such as is found in some States that are outgrowing Texas. Texans need to know Texas and all that it has to offer. They need to lay aside local selfishness sufficiently to make room for pride in the entire State.

What builds Texas builds every community in Texas. The entire State and whatever is in it is in the remotest part of the State makes for good citizenship in every part. A dollar added to the wealth of the farthest county adds a dollar to State wealth and to that extent helps you.

The newspapers can do more than any other agency to break down a spirit of shriveled localism that is harming many communities and replace it with an enthusiasm broad enough to cover all Texas and every interest in the State.

The Penitentiary Problem

No Texan can know at first hand the conditions prevailing at the State penitentiary and penal farms without hanging his head in shame at 'man's inhumanity to man.' Something should be done about it and done quickly.

The fault is not with the prison management but with the prison system. The State itself is at blame in that it has not realized that a deplorable condition should be met with determination and energy.

There is nothing new in the situation. It has existed for decades, but has grown worse as the prisons have become more crowded.

It is doubtful if the present legislative session will adopt either the majority or the minority report of the prison committee that has been making a study of the problem. Possibly it should not.

It is admitted that overcrowding is the largest contributing factor to prison evils. Next to that is idleness. Next is lack of sympathetic efforts of help—recognition of the fact that all prisoners, though convicts, are not criminals at heart—that many are sick in mind or body and need treatment—that all need training, more even than punishment.

Smaller Prison Groups

Texas has grown too large to group all its prisoners at one place or to handle them as though they were all criminal alike. Most prisoners need to be schooled more than punished, many need hospitilization more than punishment. Results that are needed can be brought about better in smaller groups.

Why not start now and build a small model prison, probably two or three of them, eventually one in each congressional district and begin to treat convicts like human beings, giving them opportunity to become well, to be educated, to be trained to useful labor, to useful citizenship.

There is no maudlin sentiment in this suggestion. Some convicts, but by no means all, can never be reformed; some require and should have the severest punishment meted out by law, but there are enough of the other kind to make the effort worth while.

Instead of one immense penitentiary near Austin or any other place in which present conditions could hardly be improved sufficiently to justify the enormous expenditure, why not try smaller groupings with these so distributed and the laws so changed as to bring them under closer supervision of the courts that impose the penalties?

A Modern Fairy Tale

All of us remember the story in the story book of our childhood days of Aladdin and his wonderful lamp. We all remember with what a thrill we read of how the young man, Aladdin, rubbed the old brass lamp and the powerful geni came forth and promised him whatever he desired of wealth and riches and comfort.

Many have wished perhaps many times that in their own lives they too might discover the same sort of a lamp, from which at their wish might come a powerful geni ready and willing to do their bidding.

The story of Aladdin and his lamp is of course but an interesting picture from the fertile imagination of the writer of the wonderful Arabian Nights tales. But as wonderful as the promises of the geni to the terrified young Aladdin appear to us today, there are instances, and many of them, in the business world even more wonderful than anything the records of that well known story tell us were promised by the geni.

There are thousands of mercantile and industrial successes in this country today that have been built up during the short period of one man's life time. The story of their success and achievements and accomplishments, rivals the promises of the well-known Arabian tale.

The men of these industries in mercantile successes did not have access to Aladdin's lamp as represented in the story, but they did call to their assistance a modern geni, every bit as powerful and efficient as the fabled geni of old—the geni of advertising.

The power of advertising has produced the greatest industries in this country that the world knows anything about. It has taken a single article of common use and placed it in every home in America and made its name a household word. It has caused to be built factories to produce this article that cover acres of ground and employ thousands of people.

The limit of the power of advertising has never been reached. Whether it is a large department store or a small country town merchant, advertising can be made his servant and his helper that will bring to him business and good will that will make his store and his merchandise and his services known and desired throughout his entire trade territory.

What advertising will do is not theory or conjecture, it has been proven many, many times, and it is the one means of trade extension and good will development that is available to every merchant.

Most towns like most men could do better if they would get to thinking they could. Whether or not a town progresses and does the things that make for a better and a more prosperous town depends on the attitude the town has. A great many times, the doing of a thing is largely a matter of thinking it can be done. Most towns have within them the resources, the money and the man power to do the things that make for a more prosperous community if they will but recognize opportunity when it knocks at the village gate.

Someone has figured it out that a hair from a mules tail makes an excellent weather forecaster. It is probably as reliable as most of the methods of forecasting weather for the season, but one thing is certain that unless unusual care is exercised in securing the aforesaid hair the condition of the weather, its humidity, torridity or frigidity will not be of much concern to the possessor of this particular type of forecaster.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

On Monday afternoon, January 20, little Adele Slama celebrated her ninth birthday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Slama. Many indoor games were enjoyed with Misses Edna and Miladay Slama leading the games The latter part of the afternoon they were called into the dining room. At the door stood Miss Edna with a basket from which were streamers of pink and blue baby ribbon. Each one was asked to pull either pink or blue.

Mary Francis Allen pulled the ring, Lois Beachum the dime, Rosa Lee Matocha the thimble, and Jolene Lindle the button. They found a beautifully decorated table, with strips of pink and blue crepe paper from the electric light to the corners of the table. A white birthday cake, decorated with cake candy, with nine lighted pink candles stood in the center. At each plate stood a bottle of orange soda water. Candied whistles surrounded the birthday cake.

Mrs. Slama was assisted by Misses Edna and Milady in serving cakes and candy. Those present were Mildred Parma, Mary Francis Allen, Neil Horstmann, Mildred Michalka, Mary Ruth Sutter, Harvey Sutter, Rosa Lee Matocha, Robert Eichenhorst, Magdalene Sutter, Virginia Lindle, Jolene Lindle, Magdalene Michalka, Lois Beachum, Billie Balhorn, Jr., Annie Michalka, Thresa Michalka and Alice Striznek. In spite of the weather, each reported a nice time, and each were given as a souvenir, a candied whistle. Little Adele was a recipient of many beautiful gifts.

COULD HARDLY REST

Lady Says She Hurt Nearly All Over and Was Very Nervous. Took Cardui and Got Well.

New Albany, Ind.—"About ten years ago, I was just about run-down," writes Mrs. David Brock, of 1102 West Main St., this city.

"My back and limbs ached; in fact, I hurt nearly all over. I had bad, sick headache spells, and my nerves were all to pieces.

"I could not sleep at night; could hardly have any rest at all. I was barely able to get around to do my work. I kept up just because I was a mother with five little children to care for.

"I read about Cardui. I thought it might help me, so I bought a bottle and began to take it.

"It was such a benefit to my health. By the time I had taken the first bottle, I felt so much better. My husband insisted on me giving Cardui a fair trial, so I kept on until I had taken several bottles, and at last found myself a well woman."

Thousands of other women, who had been in a run-down, suffering condition, have reported that after taking Cardui they recovered good health.

Cardui is a strengthening tonic, extracted from herbs of long-known medicinal value. Try it. NC-216

A Modern Fairy Tale

All of us remember the story in the story book of our childhood days of Aladdin and his wonderful lamp. We all remember with what a thrill we read of how the young man, Aladdin, rubbed the old brass lamp and the powerful geni came forth and promised him whatever he desired of wealth and riches and comfort.

Many have wished perhaps many times that in their own lives they too might discover the same sort of a lamp, from which at their wish might come a powerful geni ready and willing to do their bidding.

The story of Aladdin and his lamp is of course but an interesting picture from the fertile imagination of the writer of the wonderful Arabian Nights tales. But as wonderful as the promises of the geni to the terrified young Aladdin appear to us today, there are instances, and many of them, in the business world even more wonderful than anything the records of that well known story tell us were promised by the geni.

There are thousands of mercantile and industrial successes in this country today that have been built up during the short period of one man's life time. The story of their success and achievements and accomplishments, rivals the promises of the well-known Arabian tale.

The men of these industries in mercantile successes did not have access to Aladdin's lamp as represented in the story, but they did call to their assistance a modern geni, every bit as powerful and efficient as the fabled geni of old—the geni of advertising.

The power of advertising has produced the greatest industries in this country that the world knows anything about. It has taken a single article of common use and placed it in every home in America and made its name a household word. It has caused to be built factories to produce this article that cover acres of ground and employ thousands of people.

The limit of the power of advertising has never been reached. Whether it is a large department store or a small country town merchant, advertising can be made his servant and his helper that will bring to him business and good will that will make his store and his merchandise and his services known and desired throughout his entire trade territory.

What advertising will do is not theory or conjecture, it has been proven many, many times, and it is the one means of trade extension and good will development that is available to every merchant.

Most towns like most men could do better if they would get to thinking they could. Whether or not a town progresses and does the things that make for a better and a more prosperous town depends on the attitude the town has. A great many times, the doing of a thing is largely a matter of thinking it can be done. Most towns have within them the resources, the money and the man power to do the things that make for a more prosperous community if they will but recognize opportunity when it knocks at the village gate.

Someone has figured it out that a hair from a mules tail makes an excellent weather forecaster. It is probably as reliable as most of the methods of forecasting weather for the season, but one thing is certain that unless unusual care is exercised in securing the aforesaid hair the condition of the weather, its humidity, torridity or frigidity will not be of much concern to the possessor of this particular type of forecaster.

COULD HARDLY REST

Lady Says She Hurt Nearly All Over and Was Very Nervous. Took Cardui and Got Well.

New Albany, Ind.—"About ten years ago, I was just about rundown," writes Mrs. David Brock, of 1102 West Main St., this city.

"My back and limbs ached; in fact, I hurt nearly all over. I had bad, sick headache spells, and my nerves were all to pieces.

"I could not sleep at night; could hardly have any rest at all. I was barely able to get around to do my work. I kept up just because I was a mother with five little children to care for.

"I read about Cardui. I thought it might help me, so I bought a bottle and began to take it.

"It was such a benefit to my health. By the time I had taken the first bottle, I felt so much better. My husband insisted on me giving Cardui a fair trial, so I kept on until I had taken several bottles, and at last found myself a well woman."

Thousands of other women, who had been in a run-down, suffering condition, have reported that after taking Cardui they recovered good health.

INDUSTRY IS SCANNING THE HORIZON FOR FAVORABLE LOCATIONS

—and Fortunate is the Community that has the Basic Advantage of NATURAL GAS!

No LONGER do personal opinion, chance, and guesswork play major roles in the fast-moving industrial drama of America! Every phase of industry must be studied scientifically—and the location of an industrial plant comes in for a big share of consideration. Location cannot be left to whim or chance. Industry seeks out advantageous locations that meet its particular needs.

And Industry is looking South—in our direction!

Many things are contributing to the rapid industrial growth of this section—and one of the greatest is Natural Gas. The Southwest leads all other sections in Natural Gas production—and Natural Gas attracts Industry because it is the ideal industrial fuel—cheap, flexible, requiring no storage, easy to handle.

More than 22,000 different factory and industrial operations now are employing gas, and the number is gaining rapidly. The industrial consumption of Natural Gas is more than twice the domestic or home consumption—not including the large amount consumed in oil and gas field operations!

Fortunate indeed is the community that has an adequate and dependable supply of natural gas—when industry scans the horizon for favorable locations! Regardless of the extent of other advantages, natural gas is always one of the most important.

It is the privilege of Lone Star Gas Company to supply your community with natural gas at favorable industrial rates. And it will also be the pleasure of our Industrial Department to co-operate with far-seeing local men in helping the community utilize this industrial asset to the full!

SEAL QUOTA LACKS $1.60 FOR MILAM CO.

The following report was compiled by Mrs. Albert Rettig, chairman of the committee for the sale of Christmas Health Seals, to be submitted at the meeting of the County Council at Hoyte last Saturday:

The Health Committee, Milam County Council of Parent Teachers Associations, submits the following report:

The committee, acting on instructions of the County Council's last quarterly meeting, conducted the Christmas Seal Sale for Milam County, under the direction of the Texas Health Association.

In explanation of the large expenditure deducted from the county's share of receipts, we would say that the National Tuberculosis Association recommends the mail sale plan as reaching more individuals and so enlisting greater co-operation for public health through the fight against tuberculosis.

The receipts to date (January 16) are $1.60 short of the $500.00 required by our contract, to allow us to retain 60 per cent for county health work. However, we are assured that this amount will be received within a short time.

The financial statement follows:

Receipts from Christmas Seal Sale		$498.40
Expenditures:
Postage and Stationery	$57.26
Filing cards	1.75
Office expense	50
Telephone calls	2.05
	$61.56

GAS AFTER MEALS

"Didn't See a Well Day for Weeks—None of My Food Agreed With Me," Says Engineer.

Kansas City, Mo.—"After each meal, distress would come on me, and I would suffer bad pain," says Mr. Peter Seeger, a Missouri Pacific railroad engineer, residing at 329 Elmwood Street, this city.

Mr. Seeger explains that the pain seemed to come from indigestion, as he had a sensation of gas, or bloated feeling in his stomach. "I found that by taking a pinch of Black-Draught, dry, after meals, I would be relieved," he says.

"I would carry Black-Draught to work with me. I took it for about a year and a half.

"None of my food agreed with me. I would frequently taste what I ate, long after my meals, and I did not see a well day for weeks. I began taking a pinch of Black-Draught after each meal, and kept this up for weeks. Gradually the pain left me, and I began to feel better. I ceased to be troubled with gas, and could eat what I liked.

"I have been well now for a year, but I still keep Black-Draught, and take it to avoid constipation."

Have you tried it?

Colonial Homes Surely Constructed to Endure

Those who are familiar with the construction methods employed by New England coast house builders of the Colonial period are generally impressed by the foundation work. Today, after a century or more, one may find these foundations unshaken. Labor was cheap in earlier times; construction material close at hand. Perhaps such massive bases for the superstructure were needlessly extravagant, yet one must admire the honest work that has stood the tests of time.

At East Winthrop, Maine, there stands a massive Colonial dwelling, 167 years old, that has one of these typical foundations. It is formed of enormous granite slabs which are laid up three feet thick. It is tradition among descendants of the original owners that three yokes of oxen were required to haul some of these great stones to the spot.

Quite frequently one will come across one of these Colonial houses with stone chimney bases 20 feet square while on the ground floor there will be tunnels through the heart of the chimney, forming unique hallways from one part of the main floor to another. Foundations and chimneys were built to withstand the onslaughts of floods, earthquakes and centuries. Fire occasionally razes cleanly one of these Colonial dwellings, yet the hand of man is always necessary to tear apart that honest masonry.

Moose Given Points of Superiority Over Horse

Some years ago a harnessed moose easily took first place in a horse race, but was refused first prize because the judges decided it was out of the competition.

Moose were used as saddle and draft horses several centuries ago until prohibited by a royal decree, as it was feared a criminal astride a moose could easily outdistance his horse-powered pursuers.

A Swedish country gentleman caught a moose bull as a calf and broke him for mail service. The animal proved more practical than a horse, since no gates had to be opened, the moose clearing them all without difficulty.

At one time a military expert proposed a moose cavalry regiment, asserting that a moose squadron would put fright into a whole horse regiment. The scheme was left untried.

Paper Has Kept Growth

In the United States the history of paper is the history of the country. When the Revolutionary war broke out there was hardly enough paper available to wad the guns of the soldiers or upon which to write the orders of their officers. There was virtually no paper. By 1810, however, the use had increased to about one pound per capita per year. It had grown to over eight pounds in 1850. The Civil war greatly accelerated consumption, which reached 25 pounds in 1869. In 1899 it was 57 pounds; in 1923, 150 pounds, and today the people of the nation annually consume more than their own weight in paper.

Bell-Ringing Clocks

Perhaps the earliest tower clock with bell-ringing mechanism was one made by Peter Lightfoot, a monk of Glastonbury, England, about 1325, writes Satis N. Coleman in his book, "Bells." Connected with this clock were automatic figures which struck a bell on the hours. These performing figures pleased the public, and many of the town clocks of Europe were provided with such figures to ring the bells on the hours. They were used for proclaiming time long before the introduction of clock dials.—Detroit News.

Unbreakable Glass

The bureau of standards says that in general non-shatterable glass is of three distinct types. One of these is unusually thick; another consists of two or more layers of glass cemented together with an organic binder, such as celluloid, and the third is prepared by special heat treatment. The first of these can be identified by its relatively great thickness, the second by examining the edge of the glass for laminated structure, and the third by its irregular figures, seen when the glass is examined in polarized light.

Tinned Stuff Used in Navy

More than 19,000,000 pounds of canned goods are consumed by the sailors of the United States navy in a year. Canned tomatoes take the lead in vegetables, followed by peas, corn and stringless beans. Among fruits, peaches lead, followed closely by pineapple, then come prunes, applesauce, apricots, pears, figs and raisins. Figs are relatively new in the canned goods products, but the navy uses them to the extent of 540,000 pounds annually.

Thrifty, Lying Americans?

About one-half of the homes in the United States are owned by men with incomes less than $2,000. So, after all, this thing of saying Americans are not thrifty is based on imagination instead of facts. We guess that about 99 per cent of what we Americans say is untrue. We have developed into a race of liars, we regret to say.—Atchison Globe.

SEAL QUOTA LACKS $1.60 FOR MILAM CO.

The following report was compiled by Mrs. Albert Rettig, chairman of the committee for the sale of Christmas Health Seals, to be submitted at the meeting of the County Council at Hoyte last Saturday:

The Health Committee, Milam County Council of Parent Teachers Associations, submits the following report:

The committee, acting on instructions of the County Council's last quarterly meeting, conducted the Christmas Seal Sale for Milam County, under the direction of the Texas Health Association.

In explanation of the large expenditure deducted from the county's share of receipts, we would say that the National Tuberculosis Association recommends the mail sale plan as reaching more individuals and so enlisting greater co-operation for public health through the fight against tuberculosis.

The receipts to date (January 16) are $1.60 short of the $500.00 required by our contract, to allow us to retain 60 per cent for county health work. However, we are assured that this amount will be received within a short time.

The financial statement follows:

Receipts from Christmas Seal Sale		$498.40
Expenditures:
Postage and Stationery	$57.26
Filing cards	1.75
Office expense	50
Telephone calls	2.05
	$61.56
Balance on hand	$436.84	$498.40

GAS AFTER MEALS

"Didn't See a Well Day for Weeks—None of My Food Agreed With Me," Says Engineer.

Kansas City, Mo.—"After each meal, distress would come on me, and I would suffer bad pain," says Mr. Peter Seeger, a Missouri Pacific railroad engineer, residing at 329 Elmwood Street, this city.

Mr. Seeger explains that the pain seemed to come from indigestion, as he had a sensation of gas, or bloated feeling in his stomach. "I found that by taking a pinch of Black-Draught, dry, after meals, I would be relieved," he says.

"I would carry Black-Draught to work with me. I took it for about a year and a half.

"None of my food agreed with me. I would frequently taste what I ate, long after my meals, and I did not see a well day for weeks. I began taking a pinch of Black-Draught after each meal, and kept this up for weeks. Gradually the pain left me, and I began to feel better. I ceased to be troubled with gas, and could eat what I liked.

"I have been well now for a year, but I still keep Black-Draught, and take it to avoid constipation."

Have you tried it?

Colonial Homes Surely Constructed to Endure

Those who are familiar with the construction methods employed by New England coast house builders of the Colonial period are generally impressed by the foundation work. Today, after a century or more, one may find these foundations unshaken. Labor was cheap in earlier times; construction material close at hand. Perhaps such massive bases for the superstructure were needlessly extravagant, yet one must admire the honest work that has stood the tests of time.

At East Winthrop, Maine, there stands a massive Colonial dwelling, 167 years old, that has one of these typical foundations. It is formed of enormous granite slabs which are laid up three feet thick. It is tradition among descendants of the original owners that three yokes of oxen were required to haul some of these great stones to the spot.

Quite frequently one will come across one of these Colonial houses with stone chimney bases 20 feet square while on the ground floor there will be tunnels through the heart of the chimney, forming unique hallways from one part of the main floor to another. Foundations and chimneys were built to withstand the onslaughts of floods, earthquakes and centuries. Fire occasionally razes cleanly one of these Colonial dwellings, yet the hand of man is always necessary to tear apart that honest masonry.

Moose Given Points of Superiority Over Horse

Some years ago a harnessed moose easily took first place in a horse race, but was refused first prize because the judges decided it was out of the competition.

Moose were used as saddle and draft horses several centuries ago until prohibited by a royal decree, as it was feared a criminal astride a moose could easily outdistance his horse-powered pursuers.

A Swedish country gentleman caught a moose bull as a calf and broke him for mail service. The animal proved more practical than a horse, since no gates had to be opened, the moose clearing them all without difficulty.

At one time a military expert proposed a moose cavalry regiment, asserting that a moose squadron would put fright into a whole horse regiment. The scheme was left untried.

Paper Has Kept Growth

In the United States the history of paper is the history of the country. When the Revolutionary war broke out there was hardly enough paper available to wad the guns of the soldiers or upon which to write the orders of their officers. There was virtually no paper. By 1810, however, the use had increased to about one pound per capita per year. It had grown to over eight pounds in 1850. The Civil war greatly accelerated consumption, which reached 25 pounds in 1869. In 1899 it was 57 pounds; in 1923, 150 pounds, and today the people of the nation annually consume more than their own weight in paper.

Bell-Ringing Clocks

Perhaps the earliest tower clock with bell-ringing mechanism was one made by Peter Lightfoot, a monk of Glastonbury, England, about 1325, writes Satis N. Coleman in his book, "Bells." Connected with this clock were automatic figures which struck a bell on the hours. These performing figures pleased the public, and many of the town clocks of Europe were provided with such figures to ring the bells on the hours. They were used for proclaiming time long before the introduction of clock dials.—Detroit News.

Unbreakable Glass

The bureau of standards says that in general non-shatterable glass is of three distinct types. One of these is unusually thick; another consists of two or more layers of glass cemented together with an organic binder, such as celluloid, and the third is prepared by special heat treatment. The first of these can be identified by its relatively great thickness, the second by examining the edge of the glass for laminated structure, and the third by its irregular figures, seen when the glass is examined in polarized light.

Tinned Stuff Used in Navy

More than 19,000,000 pounds of canned goods are consumed by the sailors of the United States navy in a year. Canned tomatoes take the lead in vegetables, followed by peas, corn and stringless beans. Among fruits, peaches lead, followed closely by pineapple, then come prunes, applesauce, apricots, pears, figs and raisins. Figs are relatively new in the canned goods products, but the navy uses them to the extent of 540,000 pounds annually.

pletion will serve Cameron, San Gabriel and Thorndale. (c) The Cameron and Gause road from where it intersects the John H. Reagan Highway to the Lamkin Bridge which will soon be the main artery of general travel from southeast to northwest Texas, as well as the trade travel from the Gause and Hanover communities to Cameron. Much valuable work has been done on this road under the careful supervision of Commissioner Haireston and his able assistant, Mr. Pierce, but the needs of that road will not be met until it is made equal to the highway which it intersects. There are other important roads which could be mentioned and which must be considered and cared for. The slogan of the Club ought to be, 'A good road to every farm.'

'We must begin now, in order to have the work completed in time for the next season. Postponement means the loss of a year's business. We must make it a community interest. Every property owner, every dealer, every employee, every resident of the city is vitally interested and should be a willing contributor upon a basis of fair equality. It will not do for any to say, 'Let George do it.' George must do his part and John and Jane and every other person, man or woman, must join in a rally to mobilize all our resources. Cameron is already a good town, but we can make it a better town if we will unite our efforts in the campaign for good roads. We urge the club to take this matter in hand and devise a plan by which we can raise, without burdening anybody, a sufficient sum to put over a successful road program to be carried out in 1930.

GAUSE

Still winter time? I guess! We just shivered through what they say has been the coldest weather since 1899. The thermometer registered two blow zero. The Brazos river was frozen from bank to bank. The view from the bridge was a wonderful sight; huge icicles hanging down from the bank looked as if they hid great, dark caves behind them. Ice was fine on tanks for skating. Several who are inexperienced skaters received bumps, bruises and general soreness. Mrs. G. R. Varner and Miss Hazel Thomas, who used to enjoy the winter sports of the north, got out their ice skates and skated on the Brazos river bridge which was covered with ice. But zero weather isn't all fun. It makes outdoor work unpleasant and lots of livestock are not going to be able to undergo much of it. Many housewives lost a number of jars of canned vegetables and fruit.

Who said Gause wasn't growing. Audie Crockett opened up the new Meca Cafe Wednesday and says business is doing fine. He presents a very nice cafe; the interior of the building was recently remodeled and he has some new fixtures. Visit him; your patronage will be appreciated.

The cold weather prevented church services Sunday but Sunday school services were held at the Methodist church in spite of the cold. Forty-two were present.

A. R. J. Ealand was taken to the Cameron hospital Thursday night and operated on Friday for appendicitis. At the latest report he was doing nicely. Mrs. Ealand had been ill for several days but is able to be up now. Frank Ealand and friend, Alfonso Beer, of Houston came Thursday night after receiving word of the illness. They made excellent time from Houston but just as they drove on the lawn of the home of the parents an axle of the car broke.

Miss Elsie Hauptfleisch, teacher in the Milano school, spent the week end at her home here.

Tom Self, who is attending school at Hearne spent Sunday with his parents Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Self.

Miss Florence Hilliard, teacher in the Gause school spent the week end at her home in Rosebud

Miss Mary Sue Walker, teacher in the Gause school, spent the week end at her home in Waco.

Miss Harrison of Wheelock has returned to her home after visiting in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kilpatrick Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Bland.

Bobby Obbitts of San Marcos visited his wife, who is a teacher in the Gause school, during the week end.

MRS. VERNON ROBERTS IS HOSTESS TO VALENTINE PARTY

The first Valentine party of the season was given Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Vernon Roberts was hostess to members of the Triple Four Bridge Club. The chosen motif was used in decorations over the house, in tallies and score cards, in game awards, which were large boxes of candy in Valentine boxes for high scores, and in table cuts, which were small red satin heart-shaped boxes of candy. Mrs. John C. Young made high score for club members and Mrs. Bassett Watson for guests.

Assisted by Mrs. A. H. Baskin, Jr., the hostess served her guests a salad course and hot tea.

TUESDAY BRIDGE CLUB IS ENTERTAINED BY MRS. FLINN

A novel method of finding partners and tables for playing was noted on tallies and score pads, when Mrs. Eber Flinn entertained members of the Tuesday Bridge Club this week at her home. For the three tables, players were numbered from 1 through 12 consecutively, and the tables were A, B, and C. Instead of having only winners progress, everyone changed tables and partners following each game, according to directions on the tallies.

Following the games, the hostess served creamed turkey, a salad, cookies, and hot tea. She was assisted by Miss Helen Flinn. Players other than club members were Mrs. J. C. Martin and Mrs. Judd Davis.

PARTY DECORATIONS HERALD SPRING WHEN MRS. COBB ENTERTAINS FRIENDS HERE

Forming a pleasant contrast to the bitter cold outside was the party which Mrs. Wm. Cobb gave last Thursday afternoon, when the approach of spring was heralded in appointments. Flower decorated tallies and score cards were the first indications of the motif which was being used, for the house decorations of potted cyclamens and hyacinths are typical of this mid-season.

Following the games the guests were served a salad and a dessert course and hot tea. The tables were centered with crepe paper baskets in a variety of spring colors, filled with packages of flower seed. To each package was attached a ribbon and a verse with directions for using, and these ribbons ran from the center basket to each plate, indicating that each guest was to have a package of seed.

Guests other than club members were Mrs. B. F. Bonds, Miss Annie Bowman of Eddy, Mrs. Tom Law of Houston and Mrs. Vernon McIntyre of Alpine.

MRS. S. E. BROWN

Funeral services for Mrs. S. E. Brown, age 71 years, were held from the residence in Cameron Tuesday afternoon, January 21, at four o'clock in the afternoon, Rev. C. A. Lehmberg officiating. Interment was in Oak Hill Cemetery with Green Brothers in charge of arrangements. Pall bearers were Judge Jeff Kemp, J. C. Mayfield, Aubrey Price, M. Janeway, John Olson and John McElrath.

Mrs. Brown, daughter of the late J. Claxton, passed away on Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock at her home.

She was born in Bedford County, Tennessee, and came to Texas in 1877. She was married to James Gandy in 1880, and they had four children, all of whom are dead. Mrs. Brown was married the second time in 1891 to J. R. Harbor, and following his death, she married S. E. Brown, who survives her. Two duaghters-in-law and six grandchildren also survive.

Mrs. Brown was a member of the Baptist church.

MRS. P. V. WORBINGTON

Mrs. P. V. Worbington died Thursday evening, January 16, at eleven o'clock at Milano. Funeral services were held from the residence of H. N. Haddox at Milano Saturday afternoon at three o'clock, with Rev. C. A. Lehmberg reading the rites. Interment was in the Milano Cemetery, Green Brothers directing Pall bearers were F. W. Iiams, G. C. Sloan, Joe Haddox, Louis Haddox, Leslie Hanover and Oren Worbington

Allie Fair Worbington was born on August 25, 1889. She was married to P. V. Worbington on August 23, 1908 and to them nine children were born, eight of whom survive. Other survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Haddox of Milano and Mrs. Williams of Uvalde, and one brother, John Edmonds of Bryan.

Mrs. Worbington was a member of the Baptist church having joined that body 22 years ago.

PRESBYTERIAN AUXILIARY

Members of the Presbyterian Auxiliary met with Mrs. J. H. pletion will serve Cameron, San Gabriel and Thorndale. (c) The Cameron and Gause road from where it intersects the John H. Reagan Highway to the Lamkin Bridge which will soon be the main artery of general travel from southeast to northwest Texas, as well as the trade travel from the Gause and Hanover communities to Cameron. Much valuable work has been done on this road under the careful supervision of Commissioner Hairston and his able assistant, Mr. Pierce, but the needs of that road will not be met until it is made equal to the highway which it intersects. There are other important roads which could be mentioned and which must be considered and cared for. The slogan of the Club ought to be, 'A good road to every farm.'

'We must begin now, in order to have the work completed in time for the next season. Postponement means the loss of a year's business. We must make it a community interest. Every property owner, every dealer, every employee, every resident of the city is vitally interested and should be a willing contributor upon a basis of fair equality. It will not do for any to say, 'Let George do it.' George must do his part and John and Jane and every other person, man or woman, must join in a rally to mobilize all our resources. Cameron is already a good town, but we can make it a better town if we will unite our efforts in the campaign for good roads. We urge the club to take this matter in hand and devise a plan by which we can raise, without burdening anybody, a sufficient sum to put over a successful road program to be carried out in 1930.

GAUSE

Still winter time? I guess! We just shivered through what they say has been the coldest weather since 1899. The thermometer registered two blow zero. The Brazos river was frozen from bank to bank. The view from the bridge was a wonderful sight; huge icicles hanging down from the bank looked as if they hid great, dark caves behind them. Ice was fine on tanks for skating. Several who are inexperienced skaters received bumps, bruises and general soreness. Mrs. G. R. Varner and Miss Hazel Thomas, who used to enjoy the winter sports of the north, got out their ice skates and skated on the Brazos river bridge which was covered with ice. But zero weather isn't all fun. It makes outdoor work unpleasant and lots of livestock are not going to be able to undergo much of it. Many housewives lost a number of jars of canned vegetables and fruit.

Who said Gause wasn't growing. Audie Crockett opened up the new Meca Cafe Wednesday and says business is doing fine. He presents a very nice cafe; the interior of the building was recently remodeled and he has some new fixtures. Visit him; your patronage will be appreciated.

The cold weather prevented church services Sunday but Sunday school services were held at the Methodist church in spite of the cold. Forty-two were present.

A. R. J. Ealand was taken to the Cameron hospital Thursday night and operated on Friday for appendicitis. At the latest report he was doing nicely. Mrs. Ealand had been ill for several days but is able to be up now. Frank Ealand and friend, Alfonso Beer, of Houston came Thursday night after receiving word of the illness. They made excellent time from Houston but just as they drove on the lawn of the home of the parents an axle of the car broke.

Miss Elsie Hauptfleisch, teacher in the Milano school, spent the week end at her home here.

Tom Self, who is attending school at Hearne spent Sunday with his parents Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Self.

Miss Florence Hilliard, teacher in the Gause school spent the week end at her home in Rosebud

Miss Mary Sue Walker, teacher in the Gause school, spent the week end at her home in Waco.

Miss Harrison of Wheelock has returned to her home after visiting in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kilpatrick Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Bland.

Bobby Obbitts of San Marcos visited his wife, who is a teacher in the Gause school, during the week end.

MRS. VERNON ROBERTS IS HOSTESS TO VALENTINE PARTY

The first Valentine party of the season was given Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Vernon Roberts was hostess to members of the Triple Four Bridge Club. The chosen motif was used in decorations over the house, in tallies and score cards, in game awards, which were large boxes of candy in Valentine boxes for high scores, and in table cuts, which were small red satin heart-shaped boxes of candy. Mrs. John C. Young made high score for club members and Mrs. Bassett Watson for guests.

Assisted by Mrs. A. H. Baskin, Jr., the hostess served her guests a salad course and hot tea.

TUESDAY BRIDGE CLUB IS ENTERTAINED BY MRS. FLINN

A novel method of finding partners and tables for playing was noted on tallies and score pads, when Mrs. Eber Flinn entertained members of the Tuesday Bridge Club this week at her home. For the three tables, players were numbered from 1 through 12 consecutively, and the tables were A, B, and C. Instead of having only winners progress, everyone changed tables and partners following each game, according to directions on the tallies.

Following the games, the hostess served creamed turkey, a salad, cookies, and hot tea. She was assisted by Miss Helen Flinn. Players other than club members were Mrs. J. C. Martin and Mrs. Judd Davis.

PARTY DECORATIONS HERALD SPRING WHEN MRS. COBB ENTERTAINS FRIENDS HERE

Forming a pleasant contrast to the bitter cold outside was the party which Mrs. Wm. Cobb gave last Thursday afternoon, when the approach of spring was heralded in appointments. Flower decorated tallies and score cards were the first indications of the motif which was being used, for the house decorations of potted cyclamens and hyacinths are typical of this mid-season.

Following the games the guests were served a salad and a dessert course and hot tea. The tables were centered with crepe paper baskets in a variety of spring colors, filled with packages of flower seed. To each package was attached a ribbon and a verse with directions for using, and these ribbons ran from the center basket to each plate, indicating that each guest was to have a package of seed.

Guests other than club members were Mrs. B. F. Bonds, Miss Annie Bowman of Eddy, Mrs. Tom Law of Houston and Mrs. Vernon McIntyre of Alpine.
